

Quote of the day

The quote of the day was by a African Proverb it says “If you want to go quickly go alone. If you want to go far go together”. I think this means that you might be more productive if you go alone but going as a group will always be better. There's going to always be together

Topic of the day

Solving problems with your brother can be way better than solving problems by yourself. Being in a group of your brothers is great because there might be other people who think about

BROTHERS

Problems with your brothers