

PROGRAM DATA IN TERMINAL-BECOMING A PROGRAMMER

Today we talked about program data in terminal. Coding is writing any instructions in any language. A person that code is writing from one language to another. Code is process of writing the instructions. Programming means to program the machine with no errors. Programming is solving problems. They create things and solve things. A programmer works actively on solutions. Programmer figures out the small problems.

Program data in terminal