

The black man will never get anybody's respect until he first learns to respect his own women

I think this is saying that for black men to be respected they need to quit treating women badly especially their own race bad. No one's gonna respect you if you abuse women . I think we as a people should take a stand and end the putting down of women such as calling them hoes, b*tches etc.

respecting women

TOPIC OF THE DAY

Relationship between the black men and black women

I wouldn't have much experience with this because ,my parents are together, I can see how it would feel as the child's point of view if the parents relationship is broken.

black men and women relationships